PLEASANT ENTERTAINMENT.—The theatrical entertainment given last night at Armory Hall for the benefit of the Old Dominion Boat (lab, by some of the "young folks." was one or the most enjoyable and successful since the presentation of the Rivals, so well remembered by most of our civizens. The characters in the laughable comedy of Wellington De Boots were all admirably sustained, and where all did their paris so well it is difficult to particu latz. The hall was well filled with one of the most refined and appreciative audiences that has been there since it was opened, and all were more than pleased. The ladies and gentlemen who afforded so much enjoyment well merit the who afforded so much enjoyment well merit the praise bestowed upon them on all sides, and "Mejar Wellington De Boots," [Mr. John H. Parrott, is. I made for himself a "came and fame," while Mrs. De Boote, [Miss Carrie Wattles] performed her part to nature, and was presented by her admirers in the audience with two handsome borquets. Mr. C. F. Ford, is., as Mr. Felix Festherley, who had a most difficult part, went through with it with great credit to himself and to the delight of the sudience, and Mrs. Felix Featherley (Mrs. James E. Blackwell), in a olear, beautiful voice, filled her part of the programme beautiful voice, filled her part of the programme with a grace and ease that a professional might well be proud of. Mr. Leouard Marbury as Mr. Frank Icabrook, the lover of Mrs. Swandown did splendidly, and the charge from a bashful to a man of unparalleled impudence.
as decired by Mrs. Featherley, was pronounced by all a masterpiece; while the character of Mrs. by all a mesterpiece; while the character of Mrs. Standard was executed by Miss May Wiedstrin true histricaic style. Trap, by Mr. Mitten Pres, Gardener by Mr. James E. Backwell, Coremon by Mr. R. S. Wiedsor, Fancie by Mis Fancie Vector, and Cook by Miss Jennie li an, although miner characters, were rendated in a style that not only contributed to the aster of the cons on, but to the success of The costumes, which were very fine, re much admired, and the probestra, under the leader ship of Professor Medley, roudered god less music curiog the evening. o eight the brilliant comic drams "All that Gold," will be presented by an no how trouge, and the characters—Sir no Last I Mr. Jasper Plum, Stephen n. Foderick Plum, Fory Twinkle, Haeris, It a mendge, L. de Valeria, Martha, Serv rimee, etc.—baya been asstanted to and matternes of well known histricate ly. Judging from the success of last night. the who attend to sight may expect a grand STHAL ANOTHER VICTIM - Among the exon some stoom we stood New York was arrived in Was one on perferday was Mr. J. S. The funeral of the late Mrs. Horters'a H Cook took place this afternoon from the residence of her brother in law, Samuel H. Janney, erq , and was largely attended by friends.

A meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperago. Union was held in the rooms of the Alexandria Reform Club this evening, at which Mrs. D.: J. McK. Riley, of Washington, delivered an interesting eddress.

There will be a fise lot of salt water rock tailors, perch. &2., for sals at the stand of Mr. G. E. Prize, in the market, to merrow. The fish will arrive here to day, and will, conse-quently, be fresh and in fine order.

HOW THEY CAPIURE HYENAS .- The following mode of tying byenss in their dens, as price is d in Afghanistan, is given by Arthur Councily in his Overland Journal, in the words of an Afghan colef, the Shirksree Syud Daoud:

"When you have tracked the beast to his den, you take a rope with two slip knots upon it in your right hand, and with your left holding a felt clock before you, you go boldly but quietly in. The animal does not know the nature of the danger, and therefore retires to the back of the den, but you may always tell where his head is by the glare of his eyes. You keep on mov ing gradually toward him on your knees, and when you are within distance throw the clock ver his head, class with him, and take care he does not iree bimself. The beast is so trig tened that he cowers back and, though he may bite the felt, he can not turn his neck round to hurt you; so you quitty teel for his forelegs, slip the knows over them, and then, with one strong nil, draw them tight up to the back of his neck and the them there. The beast is now your wo, and you can do what you like with him. We generally take those we eaten home to the kreal, and ones them on the plain with bridles in their mouths, that our dogs may be taught not to fear the bruies when they meet them

Henre are sho taken alive by the Arabs by a very similar method except that a wooden gag is used instead of a felt cloak. The similarity is the meds of capture in two such distent countries as are Algerta and Afghanistan, and by two reces so different, is remarkable. From the fact that the Afghans consider that the feat requires great presence of mind, and no instance telog given of a man baving died of a bire received to a clumsy attempt, we may inter that the Atghan byens is more powerful or mere ferecious than his African congener.
